

LOOK BEYOND THE OBVIOUS.

Goldman Sachs

Goldman Sachs is a leading global investment banking, securities and investment management firm providing a wide range of services worldwide to a diversified client base that includes corporations, financial institutions, governments and high-net-worth individuals.

Office of Global Security

The Office of Global Security (OGS) is responsible for protecting Goldman Sachs employees and assets from potential threats including fraud, organised crime and terrorism. It runs programmes to assess specific risks to our interests and puts in place measures to mitigate them. In doing so the department designs and implements technical security measures and plans and executes measures to ensure that staff traveling to high risk destinations are well protected. OGS also runs background check programmes for our employees and vendors and puts in place policies and procedures to protect the business against crime.

OGS is seeking a penultimate year student to join the department for a ten week summer internship. Candidates will be expected to demonstrate creativity, proactivity, a strong team focus, first class judgement and exceptional analytical skills.

Please apply online at www.gs.com/careers. Select the Services Division and Office of Global Security Subdivision in your application.
