

Sciences Po and Warwick University with the support the British Council and the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs

Franco-British Alliance Grant Workshop Series 2008
Economic Patriotism: The Limits of the European Market Project
Organized by Ben Clift and Cornelia Woll

Workshop 2: Sciences Po
Salle Annick Percheron, CEVIPOF, 98, rue de l'Université
11-12 September 2008

Thursday, 11 September 2008

11:00-11:30: Welcome and coffee

11:30-12:30: Introduction

An Introduction to Economic Patriotism
Ben Clift, Warwick University
Cornelia Woll, Sciences Po

Discussion

12:30-14:00 Lunch

14:00-15:00: Elections and Public Opinion

Economic fundamentals and electoral institutions as determinants of economic patriotism in Europe
Despina Alexiadou, Warwick University

Discussion: Economic patriotism and elections – a two-way impact
Emiliano Grossman, Sciences Po

15:00-15:30: Break

15:30-17:00: Financial Markets and Corporate Governance

Supporting the City: Economic patriotism and neo-liberalism in coexistence or in conflict?
Glenn Morgan, Warwick University

Pride and prejudice? Motives for economic patriotism in the market for corporate control
Helen Callaghan, Max Planck Institute

Discussion:
Ben Clift, Warwick University

Friday, 12 September 2008

10:00 – 12:00: European Integration for Patriotic Reasons

Agriculture
Wyn Grant, Warwick University

EU's energy policy
Simon Bromley, Open University

European defence
Catherine Hoeffler, Sciences Po

Discussion:
Cornelia Woll, Sciences Po

12:00 – 13:45: Lunch

14:00 – 15:30: Patriotism above and below the Nation

Institutions and economic development in capital regions: London and Paris
Patrick Le Galès, Sciences Po, and Michael Storper, Sciences Po and UCLA

European champions
Nicolas Veron, Bruegel

Discussion:
Ben Rosamond, Warwick University

15:30 – 16:00: Break

16:00 – 17:30: Challenges of Economic Governance

Supranational governance as economic patriotism? The European Union, legitimacy and the reconstruction of state space
Ben Rosamond, Warwick University

Double movement in contemporary Europe: financial integration, economic patriotism
Chris Holmes, Warwick University

Discussion:
Nicolas Jabko, Sciences Po

17:30-18:00: Conclusion

Ben Clift and Cornelia Woll