

EUROPEAN POLICIES AND POLITICS POSITION

Missions:

The position opened by Sciences Po will strengthen the research capacities of the Centre d'études européennes, especially in the domain of the analysis of the dynamics and impacts of the process of European integration and of the Europeanisation of political systems and public policies.

Research:

We will consider candidates whose research interests are relative to one of the following domains:

- the interaction between national and European public policies and comparative policies,
- the political evolutions of European societies linked to the process of European integration.

The successful candidate will also contribute to the international academic position of the institution, notably by acting as a lead participant in competitive research programmes funded by national and European calls.

Teaching:

The successful candidate will teach within the Master of European Affairs at Sciences Po, but also in the Master of Public Affairs and at the undergraduate level (preferably in English). He/She will also supervise high-level PhD theses and participate to the integration of Sciences Po PhD candidates in the international academic community.

Application requirements:

Candidates should hold a PhD in social sciences. They should demonstrate potential for conducting outstanding comparative research. International (possibly outside of the EU) teaching and/or research experience will be favoured.

All applicants should have a high-level publication record.

A good level of French and English will be a plus.

Recruitment Procedure:

Status:

Professor or assistant-professor, depending on the candidates experience.

Application material:

- a letter of interest explaining motivations for applying (in English)
- a curriculum vitae, including an exhaustive bibliography (in English)
- a research project, explaining the main research achievements and research-in-progress and to come (in English, 50,000 signs maximum)
- a list of courses taught and teaching experience
- 3 publication samples, including, if possible, a book
- the contact details of 3 referees
- a copy of the PhD thesis and the thesis evaluators' report (if appropriate)

Deadline for application:

Applications must be received no later than March, 15, 2010.

Application material must be sent to Sophie Jacquot, by e-mail and by regular mail:

sophie.jacquot@sciences-po.fr

Sophie Jacquot, Centre d'études européennes, 28 rue des Saints Pères, 75007 Paris, France.

Recruitment procedure:

Applications will be examined by a selection committee, which will shortlist a small number of candidates. These candidates will be invited to deliver a seminar to the Sciences Po academic community. They will be auditioned by the selection committee and meet members of Sciences Po executive committee. The final selection will intervene during Spring 2010.

Start date of the open position in September 2010.

Sciences Po is an equal opportunities employer.